The role of the SIRO is to take ownership of the school's information risk policy, act as an advocate for information risk, and provide advice to the Board of Governors in regard to information risk.

The aim is to ensure that the approach to information risk management:

- Takes full advantage of existing responsibility structures where these are fit for this purpose
- Associates tasks with appropriate management levels;
- Avoids unnecessary impacts on day to day activities of the school;
- Ensures that all the necessary activities are discharged in an efficient, effective, accountable and visible manner
- Responsibilities of the SIRO may be in addition to other job responsibilities and to avoid confusion should be identified clearly within the role-holder's job description.

The SIRO's responsibilities can be summarised as:

- Leading and fostering a culture that values, protects and uses information for the success of the school and benefit of the staff and pupils
- Owning the school's overall information risk policy and risk assessment processes and ensuring they are implemented consistently.
- Advising on the information risk aspects of his/her statement on internal controls
- Owning the school's information incident management framework

Organisations are required to ensure their appointed SIRO possesses the necessary knowledge and skills to undertake their role effectively and to provide periodic evidenced statements of information assurance to the school governors. The SIRO should undertake information risk management training at least annually to be able to demonstrate their skills and capabilities are up to date and relevant to the needs of the organisation.
